PRODUCT 1 • CREAM & GOLD

10 Year Old • Scotland v Haiti.

The opening-match dram. Cream and gold. Sunday 14 June, Foxborough. The optimistic pour.

PRODUCT TITLE

Wolfburn 10 Year Old • World Cup Edition • Scotland v Haiti

SHORT DESCRIPTION • FOR COLLECTION CARDS

160 chars • 1-2 sentences

The opening dram. A 10 Year Old single malt Scotch whisky for Scotland's first World Cup match in twenty-eight years. Cream and gold. Hand-bottled in Thurso.

The 10 Year Old is the opening match of the set. We have given it warm cream and gold because openings are an inherently optimistic act, and we did not want to dress the first dram of the summer in anything that looked as if it knew the score in advance.

It is matured in second-fill Oloroso sherry hogsheads and ex-bourbon casks. The result is a whisky with the depth of character of something that has been here a while, and the temperament of one that does not feel the need to introduce itself loudly.

The label carries the date, the venue, the opponent, and a small Saltire raised against a darker flag. The lions are rampant on both sides. The pour is for Sunday 14 June, at nine o'clock in the evening BST, when Scotland walks out at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough and plays a World Cup match for the first time since 1998.

Pour it before the players come out. Sit it on the table. Let it breathe. Whichever way the result goes, the bottle has been here longer than the result.

Released individually, or as part of the Drams for the Tartan Army set of three.

Mibbe aye, mibbe no. Fortune favours the brave.

TASTING NOTES

nose • palate • finish

NOSE

Sherry-led. Warm dried fruit, light vanilla, a thread of honey. Soft oak in the background.

PALATE

Oak, gentle spice, soft stone fruit. Building depth without weight. Quietly considered.

FINISH

Long, considered, a faint coastal note. Unhurried.

PRODUCT 2 • COBALT BLUE

8 Year Old • Scotland v Morocco.

The second-match dram. Cobalt blue. Friday 19 June, Foxborough. The cooler pour for the match the country has had five days to think about.

SHORT DESCRIPTION • FOR COLLECTION CARDS

The second-match dram. An 8 Year Old single malt for Scotland's group fixture against Morocco. Cobalt blue. Cooler register, brighter palate.

The 8 Year Old is the second match of the set. The cobalt-blue label is the cooler colour, because by the time Scotland walks out for Morocco on Friday 19 June, the country has had five days to think about what happened on the Sunday. A cooler colour is what those five days call for.

It is the youngest in the Drams for the Tartan Army release. Brighter on the nose, more direct on the palate, with the kind of clarity a second-match dram needs. Pour it slowly. The fixture will reward composure.

The label carries the date, the venue, the opponent, and a small Saltire raised against a darker flag. The lions are rampant on both sides. The pour is for Friday 19 June, at eight o'clock in the evening BST, when Scotland returns to Gillette Stadium in Foxborough to play Morocco in the match that decides what happens against Brazil the following Wednesday.

Do not look at the form guide. The bottle will hold the composure for you.

Released individually, or as part of the Drams for the Tartan Army set of three.

Mibbe aye, mibbe no. Fortune favours the brave.

TASTING NOTES

nose • palate • finish

NOSE

Bright. Citrus zest, fresh oak, soft cereal. A faint sweetness behind.

PALATE

Clean and direct. Light spice, gentle malt, a touch of marmalade. Composed.

FINISH

Medium, fresh, faintly mineral. Lifts on the way out.

PRODUCT 3 • GOLDEN YELLOW

12 Year Old • Scotland v Brazil.

The flagship dram. Golden yellow. Wednesday 24 June, Miami, 02:00 BST. The deepest pour for the deepest moment.

SHORT DESCRIPTION • FOR COLLECTION CARDS

The flagship. A 12 Year Old single malt for Scotland's group fixture against Brazil. Golden yellow. The deepest dram for the deepest moment.

The 12 Year Old is the third match of the set, and the flagship of the Wolfburn range. We have given it golden yellow because what the Brazil match asks for is gold, regardless of which way the result goes.

Two things to know about the match. The first is that the kick-off in Miami is at two o'clock in the morning BST, which means most of the country will either be awake when they should be asleep or asleep when they should be awake, and either choice is correct. The second is that Brazil have won the World Cup five times. Scotland have not. We can sit with that.

It is twelve years in oak. Matured in hand-selected Oloroso sherry butts and ex-bourbon casks. The result is a whisky with a lingering finish that does not require a particular result to justify itself.

The label carries the date, the venue, the opponent, and a small Saltire raised against a darker flag. The lions are rampant on both sides. The pour is for Wednesday 24 June, when Scotland plays Brazil at the Hard Rock Stadium and a country quietly holds its breath against all reasonable expectation.

Pour it slowly, somewhere between half past one and a quarter to two in the morning UK time. Sit it on the side table. Look at it once. Do not look at the form guide.

Released individually, or as part of the Drams for the Tartan Army set of three.

Mibbe aye, mibbe no. Fortune favours the brave.

TASTING NOTES

NOSE

Deep sherry. Dried fruit, dark honey, walnut. Old oak in the room.

PALATE

Rich, layered. Oak and Oloroso in long conversation. Soft spice, brown sugar, faint orange peel.

FINISH

Long, warming, faintly maritime. The kind of finish that arrives in instalments.

A set of three single malt Scotch whiskies, hand-bottled in Thurso for Scotland's three group matches at the 2026 World Cup. Limited release.

Drams for the Tartan Army is a Wolfburn release marking Scotland's first World Cup in twenty-eight years. Three single malt Scotch whiskies, hand-bottled in our distillery on the very north edge of Scotland, presented together in a set.

Each bottle is tied to a specific match.

- The 10 Year Old · cream and gold. For Scotland v Haiti. Gillette Stadium, Foxborough. Sunday 14 June, 21:00 BST.
- The 8 Year Old · cobalt blue. For Scotland v Morocco. Gillette Stadium, Foxborough. Friday 19 June, 20:00 BST.
- The 12 Year Old · golden yellow. For Scotland v Brazil. Hard Rock Stadium, Miami. Wednesday 24 June, 02:00 BST.

You receive the set. You open the bottles in the order the matches arrive. You pour them whichever way each result goes. The bottles do not require a particular outcome to justify themselves. They have been here longer than the result.

The set ships together as a single limited release. Three bottles. One purchase. Each bottle individually numbered and dated against the match it was made for. No theatrics, no decoration. The release is the thing.

It is a single limited release. When the set is gone, the set is gone. We will not repeat the set, for the simple reason that we will not repeat the summer.

First allocation to the newsletter list. Storefront open thereafter.

Mibbe aye, mibbe no. Fortune favours the brave.
